Nehru Appeals To India As Many Outposts Fall To Reds

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru warned Monday night that India's independence as a nation was threatened as Red Chinese threw tanks into battle in some of the world's loftiest mountains and extended their attacks to a spread of 1,400 miles along the Himalayan frontiers.

The prime minister, 72, who helped lead the nation to independence 15 years ago, told his 457-million people in a 13-minute broadcast nevertheless that, "The final result will be in our favor. It cannot be otherwise."

Sounding tired from the three days of crisis and Chinese attacks which were steadily pushing back

India's frontier troops, Nehru said India must carry on the struggle because she cannot submit to the aggression or domination of a powerful and unscrupulous foe.

Calling on the people to have faith and full confidence, he said, no important part of the nation's five-year economic plan will be reduced. But he declared everything will be sacrificed if necessary to save Indian freedom.

Nehru's warning and call for national sacrifice was sounded as Indian defense spokesmen announced that Mao Tse-tung's Chinese warriors had opened a new front in the area of Rima (formerly Chayu), only about 30 miles northwest of Burma's border.

This is at the extreme eastern end of India's northern frontiers and 1,400 crow-flight miles from the western front in Ladakh. Near Pangong Lake in south-eastern Ladakh, whose brackish waters are nearly 14,000 feet high, Indians lost four out of five defense posts, one of them to an attack by Chinese tanks, the Indians reported.

In this drive the Chinese were threatening Chushul, site of India's only landing strip in the area. In the entire Ladakh area the Indians lost eight outposts by capture and seven others by evacuation.

There were signs, too, of an impending attack at Longju, in the center of the northeastern sector, where the Chinese were reported concentrating a powerful force.

Fighting Spreads — Although the fighting was spreading and apparently growing in intensity, there was still no word as to casualties although they have been reported heavy on both sides.

Indian reports listed these six trouble spots from east to west: Rima—The Chinese attacked at Kibito, apparently just south of Rima near the Lahit River. Fighting was continuing but no information was given on troop positions.

Longju — New Chinese concentrations spotted. Longju was the scene of the first border clash in August, 1959, in the dispute over 51,000-square miles of border lands.

The Bhutan border area — Chinese troops, driving southward from Thag La Ridge on a line parallel to Bhutan's eastern border and about 10 miles from it, forced the Indians back to places two or three miles south of the Nam Kha River.

In this sector, where the Indians said a Chinese division or more attacked at dawn Saturday, Indian troops apparently had been forced back to the border claimed by China, if not beyond it. In this area Indians surrendered at Tsang Dhar, a half-mile south of the river after losing at least three other posts in early fighting.

Outpost Being Lost — Pangong Lake in Ladakh—Thirty Indian soldiers at one post beat off two assaults by 150 Chinese and then succumbed to a tank attack. Three other posts fell after heavy fighting.

Galwan Valley of central Ladakh — An Indian outpost, cut off since midsummer, still has not been heard from.

Chin Chap Valley of northwestern Ladakh — The Chinese attacked 11 out of 16 posts. Four fell Sunday and seven more were given up for tactical reasons.

In the Ladakh area the Indians were unable to match Chinese tanks with similar weapons. Their tortuous supply routes lie through the Himalayas and Karakoram, two of the world's highest mountain ranges, where snow already is falling, and the fall of Chushul airfield would disrupt the air supply.

Chushul is six or seven miles from the Pangong Lake fighting, and the Chinese would have to cross their own line which they claim is the border of the disputed territory to capture it.

An Indian spokesman said the Chinese were using a large fleet of trucks in the Ladakh area, indicating they had completed roads to that front.

JFK To Russia: Get Bases Out Of Western Hemisphere Or We'll Fight

Reinforce Navy Base In Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marine reinforcements reportedly are being sent into the Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba.

Unconfirmed reports indicated Monday that perhaps as many as 2,000 Marines are ticketed to reinforce the garrison at the U.S. base, which is hemmed in by Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba.

There were indications that the reinforcements might be a rifle battalion, which was flown into the Caribbean area from California.

The Marines have maintained a garrison officially listed as about 400 men at the naval base, which Castro wants.

These Marines man strong points along the 26-mile perimeter of the base.

Counting the Marines, and Navy people to fight as infantrymen. They have been given intensive rifle marksmanship drills and trained in field operations.

Rear Adm. Edward J. O'Donnell, the base commander, told visiting reporters last month: "Everybody here learns to hold a gun."

All was reported quiet at the base Monday.

IN CARIBBEAN MANEUVERS — This is the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise which is in the Caribbean area for maneuvers. Some 40 ships, and 20,000 men and carrier-based aircraft assembled for the Navy's annual maneuvers around Vieques, a small island east of Puerto Rico.

Says U.S. Will Retaliate If Any N-Weapon Is Fired

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy proclaimed a U.S. naval blockade against Cuba Monday night, saying the Soviets have started to turn Cuba into an offensive military base capable of raining nuclear destruction on all the Americas.

Speaking grimly to the nation in a suddenly called radio-television broadcast, Kennedy said the United States would wreak "a full retaliatory response upon the Soviet Union" if any nuclear missile is fired on any nation in this hemisphere.

Kennedy reported that within the past week the United States has received unmistakable evidence that — contrary to Soviet assurances — nuclear-type long-range missile sites and atomic-capable Soviet jet bombers are being established in Cuba.

Implied Warning

Kennedy uttered what seemed an implied warning that the United States may have to bomb offensive sites in Cuba if the build-up continues. He put it this way: "Should these offensive military preparations continue, thus increasing the threat to the hemisphere, further action will be justified. I have directed the armed forces to prepare for any eventualities; and I trust that, in the interest of both the Cuban people and the Soviet technicians at these sites, the hazards to all concerned of continuing this threat will be recognized."

And the President cautioned the Soviets that, if they react by aggression somewhere else in the world, they "will be met with determination."

"Any hostile move anywhere in the world against the safety and freedom of peoples to whom we are committed—including in particular the brave people of West Berlin—will be met by whatever action is needed," he said.

He emphasized, both in his prepared text and in his delivery, that the steps he was ordering now were only "initial" ones.

Even before the President finished speaking, U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson requested an urgent meeting of the United Nations Security Council to seek the withdrawal of offensive weapons from Cuba. Stevenson acted on a directive from Kennedy.

Seven-Point Program — Climaxing secret, feverish activity at the highest echelons in the U.S. government, Kennedy went on the air to announce a seven-point program of military and diplomatic action.

Solemnly, Kennedy accused the Soviet Union and its foreign minister of lying in denying that Cuba was being transformed into a base capable of launching "weapons of sudden mass destruction."

Kennedy said the only purpose of a series of offensive missile sites that have been established in Cuba can be "to provide a nuclear strike capability against the Western Hemisphere."

He said the first concrete information on this was received Tuesday morning.

Two distinct types of installations have been detected, he said. Several of them, he said, include medium-range ballistic missiles that could send a nuclear warhead more than 1,000 nautical miles—to such places as Washington, the Panama Canal, Cape Canaveral, Mexico City, or any other city in the Southeastern United States, Central America or the Caribbean area.

Additional sites, still under construction, he said, apparently are for intermediate-range missiles that can go twice as far and hit most of the major cities in the Western Hemisphere.

Bombers Being Unleashed — In addition, he said, jet bombers capable of carrying nuclear weapons now are being unleased and assembled in Cuba while bases are being built.

Kennedy said all this, contradicts repeated assurances of Soviet spokesmen given publicly and privately, that the arms buildup in Cuba would be defensive only. The size of the undertaking, he said, makes it evident that it was planned months ago. Yet only last month, Kennedy said, the Soviet government stated publicly, on Sept. 11, that the armaments sent to Cuba were designed exclusively for defensive purposes.

"That statement was false," Kennedy said.

Then last Thursday while evidence of the real nature of build-up already was available to this country, Kennedy said, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko personally told him in his office that he had been instructed once again that the Soviet help for Cuba was solely for increasing "the defense capabilities of Cuba."

"That statement also was false," Kennedy said.

Note To Moscow — A U.S. diplomatic note to Moscow, presumably containing the President's warning in formal diplomatic language, was handed to Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin shortly before Kennedy went on the air.

The President acknowledged the outlook is risky.

The Seven Points

Here is the seven-point program enunciated by Kennedy:

1. The United States, "to halt this offensive buildup" in Cuba, is imposing "a strict quarantine on all offensive military equipment under shipment to Cuba."

All ships of any kind bound for Cuba are to be turned back if they are found to contain cargoes of offensive weapons. This embargo also will be extended to "other carriers" if it need be—meaning airplanes.

2. Surveillance of Cuba and its military buildup will be stepped up, and the U.S. armed forces have been ordered "to prepare for any eventualities."

3. U.S. policy will be to regard any nuclear missile launched from Cuba against any nation in the Western Hemisphere as an attack by Russia on the United States requiring full retaliation against the Soviet Union.

4. The U.S. naval base at Guantanamo, on the eastern tip of Cuba, has been reinforced, U.S. dependents there have been evacuated, and additional military units have been ordered to stand by on alert.

5. An immediate meeting of the Organization of American States has been called to "consider this threat to hemispheric security" and to invoke the Inter-American Defense Pact provisions "in support of all necessary action."

6. The United States is asking for an emergency meeting of the United Nations Security Council without delay. The United States will call for "the prompt dismantling and withdrawal of all offensive weapons in Cuba" before it lifts the blockade.

7. Kennedy called on Soviet Premier Khrushchev "to halt and eliminate this clandestine, reckless and provocative threat to world peace."

Defense Dept. Orders 'Search Or Sink'

(Special To The Daily Record)

WASHINGTON — A high Defense Dept. official said last night that a number of Soviet ships are on route to Cuba and that the United States is prepared to sink them if necessary if they are carrying offensive weapons to the Castro regime.

The source, which declined quotation by name, made the remarks during a briefing for newsmen following President Kennedy's address to the nation in which he announced a blockade of Cuba.

The embargo includes a sailing ship, stopping it, searching it and diverting it to other ports, if possible, the spokesman said.

The source said that U.S. ships are now being deployed to intercept the Soviet vessels and that the first interception may be expected within a day or two.

Aerial photographs of Cuba are the basis for Kennedy's statement that medium range missile launching sites have already been constructed, the source said. It added that at the present time, the U.S. Navy has no way of intercepting such missiles.

The defense of the U.S. coast is being beefed up, the spokesman said, with alerting of the Strategic Air Command and all U.S. forces.

There are no plans at present to call up the 150,000 reserves authorized by Congress, nor to extend the tour of duty of servicemen, the source said. Some highly specialized reservists or servicemen may be called or retained depending upon the situation, newsmen were told.

Seek Immediate U.N. Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Acting on orders from President Kennedy, U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson Monday night asked for an urgent meeting of the United Nations Security Council to see the withdrawal of offensive weapons from Cuba.

The request was handed to Soviet Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin, current president of the 11-nation council.

There was no immediate indication as to when the meeting would be called.

Stevenson asked that the meeting be called for Tuesday morning.

A U.N. spokesman said Zorin was consulting with other members and would then set the date.

The United States submitted a resolution demanding that the council call for immediate dismantling and withdrawal from Cuba of all missiles and other offensive weapons.

The resolution asks that Acting Secretary-General U. Thant dispatch a U.N. observers corps to Cuba to assure and report on compliance with the resolution.

The resolution would also have the council call for termination of the U.S. naval blockade of shipments to Cuba upon U.N. certification of compliance with dismantling and withdrawal of missiles and offensive weapons.

Stevenson Hits Red China 'Aggression' In U. N. Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson Monday accused Communist China of premeditated naked military aggression against India in open session of United Nations principles.

Stevenson cited the India-China border warfare in replying to a Soviet demand in the 109-nation General Assembly that Nationalist China be ousted from the United Nations and all its U.N. representation turned over to the Chinese Communists.

The demand came from Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin in a speech that opened debate on the China representation issue. The United States is confident the assembly will reject the Soviet demand by even a greater margin than it did last year.

Stevenson said the Communist China offensive was a premeditated act that had been planned for the past three years.

He declared the Chinese forces were not disciplined troops but "regular units of the Chinese under precise orders. By their actions the Chinese Communists again show their scorn for the charter of this organization."

Despite heightening tension between New Delhi and Peking there was no indication here that India would speak in the debate. India was once among the foremost advocates of U.N. membership for the Peking regime.

Stevenson declared that by admitting Communist China the United Nations would not be opening the door to 600-million Chinese.

'Voiceless Human Beings' — "We would be admitting a small handful of tyrants who care little about the people and more, much more, about power," he said. "Is this giving recognition and representation to 600 million voiceless human beings?"

He asserted the Soviet Union would better serve the cause of peace by telling the Peking regime to change its ways.

Zorin made no reference to the India-China border warfare, but Stevenson departed from his prepared text to quote Indian Prime Minister Nehru as saying in New Delhi that his country is being subjected to aggression by a powerful and unscrupulous foe.

In Poll Of Area Residents:

Monroe Countians Back JFK Completely

MONROE County citizens backed President Kennedy 100 per cent, a cross section survey by the Daily Record revealed last night.

A Daily Record reporter contacted area residents by phone while another hit the man on the street to get their feelings on the President's stiff edict to the Soviet Union, regarding setting up missile bases in Cuba.

More than two score persons, picked at random, felt President Kennedy was right in demanding a halt to offensive military tactics by Fidel Castro's Cuban government.

Some of their quotes were: Joseph W. Murray Jr., Cresco, "I think it's about time the United States did something about the situation in Cuba. I also believe the President did not have enough goods until recently and has had to wait until tonight to make a decision." Murray is a retired Lt. Col. of the U.S. Marine Corps Reserves. He also added, "have green uniforms and shined shoes—will travel."

Mrs. Joyce Murray, East Stroudsburg, "I agree with the action taken last night by the President of the United States. Something had to be done about the crisis in that island country. I also feel that he (the President) waited too long to take action."

Robert Shaw, Stroudsburg, "He should have taken this action six months ago. Why he waited this long I do not know but he must have had a good reason. However, as I stated first, he should have made the move months ago."

Clark Frailey, East Stroudsburg, "This action should have been taken three years ago or whenever it was Castro announced that he was a Communist. We (the U. S.) have fooled around too much and too long with that tiny island and its Red leader. My only worry now is will the President carry out the action he took last night?"

Thomas Shiffer, Stroudsburg, "I did not hear the entire speech as I had to leave home for an appointment. But I do agree 100 per cent with the action President Kennedy took in as much of the speech I heard."

Richard Rugg, East Stroudsburg, "The thing scares me a little, but I'm glad we finally took some action. We have been pushed around long enough by that little island country. Not by its people but by its Red leaders."

Nancy Shulkaitis, Middle Smithfield Twp., "President Kennedy had to do something. There was a dangerous situation developing and something had to be done before it was too late. The action should have had some forewarning, however, so that it would not be such a shock."

Joseph Small, mayor of Stroudsburg, "He is our President, and we will certainly follow him, he is our leader, and I hope to God this doesn't mean war, and I feel everything will turn out for the best."

Earl Groner, Superintendent, Stroud Union School District, "It is a pretty serious state of affairs. I feel we have problems ahead of us, and a rough road to travel. But I don't feel scared."

Thomas L. Kistler, mayor of East Stroudsburg, "I think it is Okay. Both the Republicans and Democrats are behind him, it is certainly a dangerous situation. Something had to be done, and I hope it isn't too late."

Ted Getz, Stroudsburg, "Very simple, the military buildup by Russia in Cuba, is a definite threat to the Western Hemisphere. This action should have been taken months ago."

Personal reactions from leaders of women's civic organizations include:

Mrs. JoVan De Rocco, League of Women Voters: "Personally, I feel that he has taken the proper action and I am 100 per cent behind it. I regard it as a major step in American history."

Mrs. Stanley Grace, Junior Woman's Club: "I agree heartily with the decision. I think we've stepped back far enough and we'll just keep getting pushed around unless we take a stand."

Then last Thursday while evidence of the real nature of build-up already was available to this country, Kennedy said, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko personally told him in his office that he had been instructed once again that the Soviet help for Cuba was solely for increasing "the defense capabilities of Cuba."

Clark Lauds Tocks On Monroe Co. Visit

CONSTRUCTION of the Tocks Island dam will be the greatest event in the history of Monroe County, Senator Joseph S. Clark (D., Pa.) said here today. He said the dam and reservoir would create thousands of jobs and business opportunities.

Senator Clark, who is one of the leading advocates of the dam, made his comments in a speech and press conference during a visit to Monroe County in his campaign for re-election as Pennsylvania's senior Senator.

Senator Clark said the Tocks Island reservoir would be the outstanding vacation center between the Great Lakes and the Atlantic, within a day's drive of one-fourth of the population of the United States, and visited by millions annually.

Thousands of Jobs — "It will mean thousands of jobs and added income conservatively estimated at $7 million a year for workers and businessmen in this entire area," he said.

"I want to go back to Washington to fight for the legislation and funds necessary to make these dreams come true."

"I don't know whether my opponent is for or against this dam. He has opposed other similar projects in Pennsylvania. But, in any case, as a freshman Senator on the minority side of the chamber, with a Democrat in the White House, he would be ineffective in helping to get it built even if he favors it."

"He has alienated the Western Senators who dominate the Interior Committee by his senseless crusade against a power project in the State of Washington, 3,000 miles from Pennsylvania. And after the way he has blasted President Kennedy and his Administration in this campaign with such words as 'dictator,' 'socialists,' 'left-wingers,' and 'always giving in to the Communists,' he is hardly the man to plead Pennsylvania's case with the President, the Budget Bureau, the Secretary of the Interior and others whose approval must be obtained."

"Combined with the natural mountain beauty of the Poconos, the artificial lake behind the Tocks Island dam will create one of the greatest attractions in the world for vacationers and tourists. It will provide swimming, boating, water skiing, camping, and hiking facilities unsurpassed in the Eastern United States," the Senator said. "In terms of jobs and business opportunities, it will mean to Monroe and Pike Counties what the Grand Canyon means to Arizona, Yellowstone National Park to Wyoming, and the Atlantic seashore to New Jersey."

Equity In Stroudsburg's Homes Totals $8,356,000

RESIDENTS of Stroudsburg have a huge amount of money invested in their homes. Their equity in these dwellings, representing market value minus outstanding mortgage debt, comes to a healthy $8,356,000.

This refers solely to non-farm dwellings which are occupied in whole or in part by their owners. Locally and elsewhere a cross the country, Americans have built up vast assets for themselves over the years by acquiring their own homes.

Nationally, the value of these holdings is placed at more than $100 billion, subject to mortgages of $117 billion.

The facts and figures come from the recent Census of Housing and from studies made by the University of Michigan's Survey Research Center.

Five Deeds Recorded

FIVE deeds were filed yesterday in the office of Mrs. Jeanette E. Batary, Monroe County recorder and recorder.

William H. and Kathryn M. Davis, Marshalls Creek, to Walter C. and Jewel E. Chase, Glenfield Township; Carl Cramer, administrator of the estate of Ed. Lewis Cramer, Smithfield Township; to Ivor and Inga K. Peterson, same address, property in Smithfield Township.

Stillwater Lake Estates, Inc., Pocono Summit, to Elmer Rees, Wynnewood, property in Coolbaugh Township; Luther A. Jr., and Florence M. Van Why, Bushkill, to James E. and Ruby D. Howley, same address, property in Middle Smithfield Township; Ruth D. H. and R. Lavere Deibler, Barrett Township, to Harry, Katherine, James and Alice Price, same address, property in Barrett Township.

Better Education Group To Meet

THE Better Education Committee of Pocono Mountain Joint Schools will meet tonight at Pocono Joint High, starting at 8 o'clock.

Clayton Coffman, chairman of the group, announced a panel discussion will take place on the criteria for selecting school directors.

Evans-Blitz To Install

EVANS-Blitz American Legion Post will install officers Wednesday night at John Krummel's Mountaintop Inn, near Skytop.

A deputy commander from the 20th district will install the new aides.

CD Officials Meet Today

CIVIL DEFENSE directors and designated shelter officials of all Monroe County political subdivisions will meet at 7:30 p.m. today in Courtroom No. 2 of the county courthouse.

In Stroudsburg, there were 1,038 such home-owner dwellings, some new and some old, listed as of 1960. Their value, based on the median asking price, is placed at $11,500 per unit.

It adds up to a grand total of $11,937,000 in market value locally. The total has been growing, year by year, in line with the general rise in realty prices.

How much would local home owners be able to realize from their property, if they were to sell it? In other words, what is its net worth? The amount of mortgage debt is the key.

The housing census shows that there are mortgages on 37 percent of the non-farm dwellings in the region encompassing Stroudsburg.

The average debt per mortgaged home in the area is about 5 percent smaller than the average in the rest of the United States.

Taking these findings into account locally, the amount of outstanding mortgage debt on such housing within the city is estimated at $3,581,000.

It saves $8,356,000 as the net asset value, which is the equity that local home owners have in their property.

Spurring the increase in home ownership in the United States in the last ten years were Government-backed loans. They enabled many people to buy homes with small down payments. Of every five loans now outstanding, two are of this type.

Clark Cites Foe's Opposition To Area

SEN. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., yesterday urged Monroe County voters to cast their ballots for him in the Nov. 6 election because of the opposition of his opponent to improvements in the area.

Clark told a news conference at the Penn-Stroud Hotel that U. S. Rep. James E. Van Zandt, the GOP nominee for the Senate, has consistently voted against such legislation as the Hill-Burton Act, which, he said, has provided $936,000 in federal funds for the Monroe County General Hospital; $195,000 in federal funds for Pocono Mountains Airport and $68,000 in planning funds for the Lincoln Ave. urban renewal project in East Stroudsburg.

Clark said that he began working for a Delaware River Basin Compact while he was still mayor of Philadelphia. At the press conference and later in a talk to about 60 persons in the hotel ballroom, Clark said he would like to return to Congress to get funds for the Tocks Island project.

Job Gains

Clark said he did not think the county has a serious unemployment problem, but said the addition of Tocks Island and the Keystone Shortway to the area should mean "you ought to be on your way here."

Clark charged that the Republicans are "happy with the status quo" and that Van Zandt while campaigning on a program of economy favors a World War I bonus which would bankrupt the U. S. Treasury.

"We have one Republican senator from Pennsylvania and I don't think we'll get anything if we have two," he said.

In answer to a question, he said he favors a series of radio or television debates but that Van Zandt has refused because "he just doesn't trust himself in free debate."

Clark also said this is the first time that the charge of Red has appeared in a political campaign in Pennsylvania and that such charge is "gutter tactics."

He also said he considers "dispicable" the act of questioning anyone's patriotism.

Endorses Yetter

Clark endorsed the candidacy of Monroe County Rep. Van D. Yetter, Jr., "who has served you well" and also urged the election of Carl Neihoff, Democratic candidate for the State Senate.

He said programs that would have benefited the area have been "stymied and stalled" in the State Legislature during the Leader and Lawrence administrations because the Democrats did not have majorities in the Senate and House.

Poconos Honors Waring

FRED WARING, co-founder and leader of the world famous Pennsylvanians, received a scroll from residents of the Pocono Mountains during his benefit performance Sunday night for the Monroe County General Hospital building fund.

The scroll was presented by Jesse R. S. Flory, former mayor of East Stroudsburg and an officer of Pocono Mountains Industries, Inc., industrial subsidiary of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce.

Flory was introduced by Montgomery F. Crowe, president of the hospital's board of directors.

The scroll reads: "We, the residents of the Pocono Mountains, deem it a privilege and an honor to pay tribute to one who has attained such a distinguished place in the world of good music."

"But, even more important, we want you to know that we are proud to call you neighbor. The renown that Shawnee Inn brings to us, your unselfish contributions to our community welfare and the fact that you have been responsible for our gaining so many other good neighbors by locating your enterprises here—these are but a few of our reasons to be grateful."

"We pray that God grant you health, happiness and long life to continue your good works."

No Injuries In Accident

NO ONE was injured in a two-car accident on Route 195, south of Anasomunk, at 8 p.m. Sunday.

H. W. Tebbis, Stroud Township police chief, identified the drivers as Dawson L. Decker, 31, of 228 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, and Earl H. Miller, 21, of 110 W. Fifth St., East Stroudsburg.

The accident occurred as Decker was turning left from the northbound lane into a private crossing of the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad tracks.

The charge was brought by Miss

"WE'RE FOR DILWORTH"

says

The Scranton Times.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1962

We're for Dilworth

A little more than three weeks hence, the people of Pennsylvania will go to the polls to choose men and women to fill high public offices. The most important of these offices on a statewide basis is that of Governor.

Reviewing the campaign which led to Mr. Scranton's election to Congress in 1960, we said that "in his pitch for votes he made many claims of personal accomplishments which we thought were rather outlandish. What is more serious, in our opinion, is that he committed himself to many promises which appear clearly impossible of fulfillment."

That appraisal was valid then. The passing of time and Mr. Scranton's sorry record in Congress have confirmed its accuracy. If he did not deliberately deceive the voters in 1960, he has betrayed them since by his do-nothing performance. And his campaign this year is something of a duplicate of that of two years ago. An opportunist, he is reckless in his campaign speeches and promises. He has again revealed that unfortunate tendency to say anything at a given time and place that he thinks will get him votes.

Mr. Scranton has demonstrated a willingness—if not an eagerness—to distort the facts, to promise everybody pie in the sky to serve his own political purpose. By his speeches and actions, we regret to say, he has shown himself lacking in the consistency, the level-headedness and the knowledge of state government required of any man aspiring to the office of Governor.

This is the man who in 1960 proclaimed that his only political ambition was to serve this community in Congress. As recently as last November, he repeated that it was his "duty" to continue as congressman. The emptiness of his high-sounding professions about "duty" was exposed when he grabbed the GOP Old Guard's offer to support him for Governor and practically abdicated as congressman.

If the people of Pennsylvania will make, as we have made, a calm, objective comparison of the two candidates and their qualifications they will, we feel certain, agree with us that their interests will be best served by the election of Richardson Dilworth.

In the contest for this responsible and demanding position the voters have a choice between Richardson Dilworth, the Democratic nominee, and Congressman William Scranton, the Republican candidate. More to the point, they have a choice between a man who as Mayor of Philadelphia has had wide experience in executive leadership in an office comparable in many respects to that of Governor of Pennsylvania and, on the other hand, a man who has had not a single hour of experience in a public administrative position and whose brief record as a congressman is utterly barren of any tangible accomplishments that would promote the welfare and best interests of his constituents.

Former Mayor Dilworth has demonstrated his capacity for executive leadership in, among many things, his direction of the great redevelopment program—often referred to as Philadelphia's "renaissance"—which has transformed the face of our state's largest city and started it back on the road towards its rightful place among the great cities of the United States.

Congressman Scranton, on the other hand, would experience great difficulty trying to cite a single major personal achievement for the benefit of his congressional district during his one campaign-interrupted term in Washington.

On the basis of its evaluation and its comparison of the experience, the qualifications and the actual performance in public office of the two gubernatorial candidates, The Times is convinced that Mayor Dilworth is by far better equipped to direct the destinies of our great Commonwealth during the next four years and to continue the enlightened and forward-looking programs and policies initiated by the Leader and Lawrence administrations.

It may surprise some people that we thus take a stand against one of our fellow townsmen as he bids for the highest office in the state. But it is the very fact that we are so close to him and thus have the opportunity to know him so well and to judge him that has influenced our decision.

KEEP PENNSYLVANIA "THE SAFE DRIVER STATE"

By Turning On Your Lights

It gets dark earlier at this time of year. Twilight occurs when most drivers are hurrying home from work. Eyes are tired, visibility is poor, and accidents are likely to occur.

You must be able to see trouble in order to avoid it. Don't wait until it gets dark to turn on your headlights. Put them on at dusk, in rain, in fog, when visibility is poor. You're a better driver when you can see properly!

If every motorist had observed this one sensible suggestion last year, 8,300 accidents, and 56 fatal accidents might have been avoided!

"Your friends are warning you that you can't continue to pile up additional debt—that this is the road to financial ruin. So you and your wife talk it over and decide to draw up a budget for next year. But instead of reducing expenditures—or even holding them at their present level—you decide that you will spend $340 more next year than this year. Youth And The Medical Professions

Pennsylvanians should be deeply concerned about the standstill in medical and dental professional college enrollments in the State. After all, the Commonwealth's population is not standing still.

Statistics compiled by the Pennsylvania Medical Society and the Pennsylvania Dental Association clearly show that not enough doctors and dentists are being turned out in Pennsylvania to meet expanding needs:

The six medical colleges in Pennsylvania this fall have about the same number of students in their four-year program as they had last year. The figure last fall was 2,637. This means only about 650 doctors are graduated each year, a rate which has been constant for three to four years.

The three dental schools in Pennsylvania have had enrollments in their three-year programs of 1,311 in 1960, 1,333 in 1961 and 1,300 this fall.

The shortage of professional personnel in medicine is a national problem, and unfortunately, it is almost being ignored.

Congress had before it legislation which, among other things, would have appropriated $75 million annually for construction of new teaching facilities or expansion of existing facilities for training physicians, dentists, pharmacists, optometrists, pediatricians, nurses or professional public health personnel. The bill never got to the floor of the House.

Why?

"The general answer is that the House Rules Committee wanted the House to act first upon the general higher education bill," Dr. Howard A. Rusk, prominent New York physician writing in The New York Times, said. "The underlying reason behind this, one can suspect, is that the conservative members of the rules committee of both political parties wanted the legislation killed."

Delay in these matters is doubly serious. To maintain the national ratio of physicians and dentists to the population will require an increase of those entering the professional schools from the present 12,500 a year to 19,000. Right now there are 46,000 students studying medicine and dentistry. By 1970 there should be 75,000 to keep pace with the growing population.

Just building medical training facilities will be not enough. Young people must be interested again in medicine and dentistry. It is no secret that the physical sciences and the law are interesting more bright students these days and turning them away from the healing arts. How widespread is this? This fall the Harrisburg area has 21 National Merit Scholarship semi-finalists. When asked their choices of professions, not one mentioned medicine or dentistry. Last year of 18 semi-finalists, one wanted to be a veterinarian and another was undecided between a biology or pre-medicine college major.

Dr. Rusk is right in pointing out the irony that exists in the political concern for medical care for the aged when, in reality, no play can be "implemented without an increase in our national supply of physicians, dentists, nurses and other health workers."

The Short Memory

Nothing that happens today, starts today. The roots of all troubles are distant and often deep. So it is with Castro's Cuba.

Back in 1948, one of those inter-American Conferences was called at Bogota in Colombia. The Secretary of that Conference was Roy Rubottom who was then attached to the American Embassy in Colombia and who subsequently became Assistant Secretary of State in charge of Latin American Affairs. It was during Roy Rubottom's administration that the State Department that Batista was knocked off by the United States and Castro recognized with unseemly speed and considerable aid.

When the Bogota Conference met, a revolt was organized called the Bogotazo. This occurred in April 1948. The Colombian Army reported the arrest of two Russian Communists. Among those most active in the Bogotazo was a youth by the name of Fidel Castro. This was a Communist revolt and although Castro was not a citizen of Colombia, he was one of the leaders of the Bogotazo.

At that time, the head of the CIA was Admiral R. H. Hillenkoetter, an intelligence officer of the highest quality. He appeared before the House Executive Expenditures Committee on April 15, 1948 and said that as early as January 2, there was a possibility of violence in Colombia during this Conference. Admiral Hillenkoetter also testified that the United States Embassy in Bogota refused to transmit one CIA warning.

President Truman said April 15 that although the United States had expected picketing of the Conference he did not believe that such trouble would develop. Curiously, the only public official who recognized the significance of the Bogotazo was Representative Clarence Brown who saw in it "a South American Pearl Harbor." Out of the Bogotazo in 1948 came Castro.

What is significant in all this is that the Government of the United States, in high places, knew as far back as 1948 that one Fidel Castro was a Communist at Bogota and that the Bogotazo was one of the starts of a Latin American Revolution. There is ample evidence that this was known to the CIA and the State Department and that President Truman was aware of it.

In fact, Governor Thomas E. Dewey said on April 12, 1948 that "Mr. Truman . . . cut off our ears and put out our eyes" in Latin America by replacing the FBI by the CIA. It was not long before the able Admiral Hillenkoetter was removed from the CIA and that organization began to pursue policy instead of merely providing information.

In the recently distributed reports of the Eastland Committee Hearing much of the data concerning the State Department's misconduct with regard to Castro is made public. (Nearly all of this data had been published in this column beginning three years ago.)

What the Eastland Committee has accomplished is to establish beyond doubt that subordinate officials on The Fourth Floor of the State Department can act independently of the President of the United States and the Secretary of State and that these officials may not know that the action had ever been taken.

This is definitely established concerning the conduct of William A. Wieland and his chief, Roy Rubottom, in their handling of the Cuban situation. Wieland withheld from Batista promised arms on his own authority. Wieland, who went at one time by the name of Montenegro and who had his own private views concerning what should be done in and about Cuba, is still in the State Department as is Roy Rubottom.

It is difficult for a citizen to understand how this is possible and how it comes about that men who have made so many obvious mistakes are still in positions where they can continue to make mistakes.

Presidents come and go; Secretaries of State come and go—but these little bureaucrats, whose names are not even known to the American people, continue to sit at desks on The Fourth Floor deciding questions on their own volition without any regard to national policy and national interest.

Their principal virtue is their ability to speak a foreign language and they are called career officers because they cannot readily be dismissed.

But the knowledge of a foreign language or two is no indicator of intelligence nor does it prove the person is guided by patriotism which is the first essential of service for the Government and people of this country.

The Pennsylvania Story

On The Road With Dilworth

By Mason Denison
With Dilworth Campaign Caravan—Complex simplicity—of all things!—perhaps best describes the campaign caravan of Democratic gubernatorial candidate Richardson Dilworth.

This particular descriptive term is used to point out the fact that while the caravan operation itself is a complex and detailed affair from beginning to end, the Dilworth caravan paradoxically is simplicity itself in the manner in which it operates—an operation seemingly streamlined to a fine point of efficiency, coordination and almost professional know-how.

In the middle of all this, almost oblivious to details and secondary facets of the operation, sits (and this word is used in its loosest sense) "commanding officer" Dick Dilworth, apparently relying smartly (as any good CO would do) on subordinates to handle the detail and routine.

The caravan operated by Pennsylvania Democrats for their gubernatorial candidate this year isn't a push one in the true sense of the word but it is a comfortable one.

Mechanically there usually will be found the standard sound vehicle equipped to play taped music—to soothe or arouse the crowds, as the case may be—and to provide a vehicle from which the candidate may deliver his speeches. It is plastered with the names of the candidates on the statewide ticket—in red, white and blue.

Instead of a bus to provide accommodations for press coverage, automobiles are used almost exclusively—the number depending on the need. There are the vehicles for caravan "aides" —plus of course a special car for the candidate and his wife.

The Dilworth caravan runs pretty much on clockwork, but amazingly, a change in schedule—and sometimes there are detailed changes that develop suddenly—is accomplished with surprising little confusion, consternation and uproar. This can perhaps be classified as one of the trademarks of the Dilworth force.

Meetings at the Dilworth-Ford Governor headquarters in the towns, villages and cities are of more than passing interest—from several standpoints.

For the most part they can perhaps best be classified as " pep rallies", oftentimes whooped up in spirit, enthusiasm, etc., by an "advance squad" that moves into the area with sound truck blaring—ahead of the main candidate caravan.

Two things happen: (1) it attracts the curious, the sidewalk stroller, the downtown shopper, the businessman on the street—and the more leisurely unemployed; (2) it becomes the signal for state and local Democratic payrollers to turn out for the duty call and "get into the spirit of things" in advance of the "great man's" entry. (This payroller pizzaz is one thing Democrats in control of Capitol Hill have this year—the very same Republicans enjoyed prior to 1955.)

The headquarters rally is the same in virtually every instance. The turnout is there (oftentimes amazingly large); Mr. Dilworth makes his heralded entry in the headquarters building; there's much handshaking, posing for pictures, chit-chat with local Democratic old pals, sipping coffee, munching cookies, cake, etc.,—and then the bow-out to the sound truck in the street.

Candidate Dilworth is introduced by local party greats—and then the inevitable speech by Mr. Dilworth. On this point is should be noted that those speeches at a headquarters rally invariably wind up as impassioned affairs, amazingly well "dramatized" by Mr. Dilworth himself—and equally well received by his listeners. Cheers and interruptions are the rule rather than the exception—by far.

The Dilworth-Ford Governor Campaign Caravan is indeed a piece of production worth watching—vastly different in many respects from that operated for his Republican counterpart!

Off The Record

By Bob Clark

The last of the great minstrels stopped over in East Stroudsburg the other evening. Before heading for other parts of the Fifty, Fred Waring and his Pennsylvania left notice in East Stroudsburg High's auditorium that there is no professional musical director alive with the touch of Waring.

It's been a long time since Waring, Al Buck, his late brother Tom, and Poley McClintock shared and flat the Pennsylvania through one of the most exciting journeys in the history of music in the United States.

Only Fred and Poley are left of the original quartet which eventually grew to include some of the greatest names in show business over a 45-year span.

However, it is the same old Waring feeling which erupts in his youngish-looking crew now heading for the Pennsylvania 46th day of the nation.

Of course a few of the old standbys are blended with the so-called fuzzy-cheeked set. Fellows like Leonard Kranendonk, the man who has more energy and voice control than most men half his age and Poley, the gentleman who keeps the image of comedian Hugh Herbert alive.

Waring gave the Pocono Mountains this year's "Wonderful World of Music" at Eastburg Sunday night. He labeled them the "unforgettables" of musical history. One thing, he forgot to mention, though, was that these unforgettables wouldn't be around to remember today if a man by the name of Waring hadn't added his sixth sense to the renditions.

The master of blending voices with music turned a two-hour performance for the benefit of General Hospital of Monroe County into a concert which had the 1000-plus audience clapping for more. It just seems when Waring and his Pennsylvanians put on a show time runs out all to quickly for the onlookers. In other words, his organization is great, he is greater and any concert they do will always be too short for an appreciative audience.

A lot of artists wear out their welcome after a period. But not Waring as the continuous applause attested throughout the 120 minutes. Fred could come to town every day and the joint would be packed even if he only brought a piccolo and four sheets of music.

He's tops. And well the gentry of the Poconos know it.

Try and Stop Me

Victor Borge once bet an acquaintance that he could tell the exact time by playing the piano. To prove his point he sat down and crashed into a few bars of Sousa's rousing "Stars and Stripes Forever." Immediately there was a violent pounding on the hotel room wall and an irate voice hollered, "Stop that noise, you idiot. It's 1:40 in the morning!"

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington, October 23 — Russian military technicians are building a formidable ring of air and sea defenses around Communist Cuba.

These growing defenses, which U. S. forces would face in an armed clash with Cuba now include:

22 anti-aircraft missiles with slant ranges of 25 to 90 miles. These SA-2 and SA-3 surface-to-air missiles are capable of hitting planes flying at heights up to 50,000 feet.

128-SN-1 "cruise type" coastal defense missiles with a line-of-sight range of 20 to 35 miles. These anti-shiping missiles, when radio-guided from a ship or plane, can travel more than 140 nautical miles.

208 Soviet MIG-15s, 17s, 19s and 21s. Of these jet interceptors, 52 are the advanced MIG-21s, equipped with infra-red air-to-air missiles.

The Allen-Scott Report

Formidable Soviet Missile Buildup Noted In Cuba

16 "Komar" class guided-missile patrol boats. These patrol craft carry from two to four short-range missiles that can cover 17 to 80 miles.

In addition to this huge military buildup, the Russians will have in operation a squadron of ten IL-28 "Beagle" jet bombers in Cuba before the end of October.

As reported by this column on October 20, these twin-engine jet bombers are now being assembled for use by Soviet pilots. The bombers have a range of 1,400 miles, and can carry an atomic bomb load of 4,000 pounds.

Russian technicians now operate and control all of the missile sites; also, Soviet pilots and not Cubans are flying the MIG-21 and 19 interceptors. Only Russian conversations have been picked up from the missile sites and jet planes.

Growing Like Topsy — An estimated 7,500 Soviet military specialists, including 160 pilots, are in Cuba. Total "foreign" technicians and advisers on the island now number above 17,500.

This latter intelligence estimate, believed to be on the conservative side, includes Russian "agriculture and government" specialists, 1,100 Chinese Communist guerrilla warfare experts, 80 Algerian troops, 2,200 Communist veterans of the Spanish civil war.

The Algerians were inspected by Premier Ben Bella during his recent state visit to Cuba. They are operating a guerrilla training school for Latin American Communists on the Isle of Pines. This new Soviet base, a small island off the coast of Cuba, is bristling with all types of missiles.

One photograph taken by a U-2 plane clearly identifies one of the rockets on the island as a Soviet intermediate range ballistic missile with a range of 1,300 to 1,600 miles.

This photograph, and those showing the "crated" IL-28 bombers, are considered so "sensitive" that Defense Secretary Robert McNamara has restricted their distribution to a handful of officials in the Defense Department.

The tightening up on intelligence information came after the White House ordered all departments to restrict the circulation of estimates on Cuba because of "leaks" to Republican senators.

All Pentagon aides have been warned by Secretary McNamara not to turn over any information on Cuba to congressional committees unless given his personal approval.

A Political Factor — Increasing private criticism of his Cuban policy by key Democratic senators was another factor behind President Kennedy's surprise decision to take emergency military measures.

Only a few days before the President ordered his military alert, Senate Democratic Whip Hubert Humphrey (Minn.) made an unscheduled visit to the White House to report on the growing dissatisfaction.

"There is a deep sense of anger, disappointment and dissatisfaction among Democratic senators over your 'wait and see' policy on Cuba," Humphrey bluntly told the President. "Maybe we are doing a lot of things in Cuba that I don't know anything about. But if we do have an affirmative policy, I haven't been able to find a single official who knows it."

Revealing to the President that he had disgustedly left a State Department briefing on Cuba that was a disgrace and a complete waste of my time. I learned absolutely nothing that hadn't been printed days ago in the papers."

"Who gave the briefing?" inquired the President. "Assistant Secretary of State Martin," answered Humphrey. "He presented no affirmative policy on Cuba. In fact, he convinced me that we don't have a policy. I questioned him about what we were doing to help the Cuban underground and he shook his head and said he didn't know."

When the President remained silent, Senator Humphrey continued: "If something isn't done soon, Cuba could become the most explosive political issue of this election. We should be setting up and supporting a Cuban government-in-exile and supporting it with all the arms and money it needs to overthrow Castro. We should be launching full-scale propaganda warfare against Castro. We should be forming an alliance in the Caribbean with the nations that want to help us stop these Soviet arms shipments and rid Cuba of all the Russian technicians."

After that statement, Humphrey exuded himself when it became evident that the President was reserving his answer until later.

Dear Abby

Direct Attack!

Dear Abby: Do you believe all men have marriage in mind when they give a girl an engagement ring? I have been going with this man for three years. For a year I have been wearing his ring. He never says, "I love you," or "Let's set the date."

Sometimes I don't believe he cares for me at all and that he gave me a ring just to keep me dangling. I love him but I can't tell him that when he never tells me he loves me. We never talk about our love or our future. I am tired of his stalling. I want to share his life. I am 25 and he is 29. What must I do?

NAMELESS

DEAR NAMELESS: Give him back his ring — and tell him why.

DEAR ABBY: My husband loves animals. He keeps a pet skunk in our house. This skunk has not been deodorized and I live in constant fear that this pet will "forget" himself one day. Wouldn't you call this mental cruelty?

NAMELESS

DEAR ABBY: When I married for the second time, I was a young widow. We were married in his church. After the ceremony my husband pointed out a bookstand memorial which he had donated in memory of his first wife. Her name stood out in large letters. Here we had been married in front of this!

After 25 years and 3 children we still sit in the same pew directly opposite this memorial. I have said nothing, but have felt plenty. Sometimes I think I can't go to church another time. Am I wrong? I've asked to change churches, but he refuses. I'd feel silly telling anyone the reason. What should be done and by whom?

WANTS TO CHANGE CHURCHES

DEAR WANTS: You can't blame your husband if you have never told him of your feelings in the matter. Confide in your clergyman. He will not think you "silly" and will probably have the solution for you.

CONFIDENTIAL TO STUDENT IN TROUBLE: Don't do anything foolish. Send me your name and address and I will tell you where to go for help.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

CUTIES

FEARFUL

DEAR FEARFUL: The skunk is a peaceful little creature who sprays the evil-smelling liquid only in moments of extreme fright or anger. (It's his weapon to drive off enemies.) So be nice to your bushy-tailed pet and he'll be nice to you.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Like a mother storing up cute things the baby has done or said during the day to tell her husband when he comes home; like the coed making mental notes on amusing aspects of a fraternity weekend to bring back to the dormitory; like a woman tucking interesting bits of information about mutual friends into her mind as she tucks things she needs at bridge club into her purse; that's the way I collect tidbits for a column.

But right now I'm in the position of a woman whose husband comes home with the news that he's just been fired, or a girl whose roommate ran off and got married, or the bride club one of whose members has just announced she's going to have a baby. In the face of the present Cuban crisis, the innocuous bits of information I was going to share with you seem hardly worth mentioning.

On the other hand, with no new information or insight to add to the sum total about that, I might just as well go prattling on as usual. Parents planning to go out to collect students for the Thanksgiving holidays at Penn State might be interested to know that the detour has been opened and that they'll never recognize the road through Hairy Johns Park.

And fans of Bill Schoonover's may be interested to know that his performance in the Syracuse-Penn State game came in for praise even from loyal Penn State rooters, despite that much publicized fumble where the ball squirted straight up in the air like a grapefruit pit hit just right by a spoon.

Nobody but I would be interested in the fact that I won a prize at my sister's bridge supper club at State College but future hostesses might be interested in what the prizes were: a jar of home-made watermelon pickle and a package of home-frozen broiled mushrooms, and how well they were received.

Hardly world-shaking information, but as in any domestic crisis you still have to go on doing the ordinary things: the baby has to be changed and put to bed; the term paper still has to be turned in for that eight o'clock class; and eventually somebody fans out her cards and announces firmly, "I bid two spades."

The Baby's Named

Area Future Homemakers Conference At PV School

A tri-county Conference of Future Homemakers of America will be held today, beginning at 9 a. m. at the Pleasant Valley Junior-Senior High School in Brodheadsville.

With the Junior and senior Pohopoco Chapters at Pleasant Valley as hosts, attending will be Weathers Chapter from Carbon County; Nazareth and Wilson Chapters from Northampton County. Sandra Rataczak, Pennsylvania Future Homemakers of America vice president of recreation has planned the program.

The host chapters, whose advisors are Mrs. Kathryn James and Mrs. Jeanette Mitchell, will be in charge of registration. Theme of the conference is "From Values Grow Well-adjusted Individuals."

John C. Mills, supervising principal and Wally Butz, principal at Pleasant Valley, and Mrs. Laura A. Holliday (area supervisor of homemaking education, will take part in the opening ceremonies.

Rev. William C. Leopold, of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Stroudsburg, will keynote the conference with a talk on "What Are Values," with a leadership team composed of Jeanne Brong, Wanda Martin, Gail McGarvey and Gladys Mosteller, presenting "Youth, Measure Your Values."

After lunch in the high school cafeteria, Mrs. Holliday will outline the program of work and the Pohopoco Junior chapter will honor the degree holders.

Sharon Billings, of Dalton, first vice president of the PFHA, will speak on the National FHA.

Entertainment will be scheduled between phases of the program, and Miss Jacqueline Fenner, music teacher at Pleasant Valley, will lead group singing.

Bushkill Man Discharged From Service — Bushkill—Herbert Bensley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bensley, of Bushkill, has returned home from Germany where he spent the past 19 months in the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Bensley accompanied by their son, Walter, were at the pier in New York to meet the ship.

Due to hurricane activity the ship was delayed one day in docking. Mr. and Mrs. Bensley spent the waiting time sight-seeing and visiting. They spent the night at Bayonne, N. J., and were at the pier waiting for their son when the ship docked the next day.

Having completed his tour of duty, Herbert has been released from the service and has returned to his pre-service job at Pocono Fabricators.

About 100 Music Parents at Stroud Union High School turned out last night for the family night supper marking the beginning of their new school year.

William Wyckoff, president, introduced the officers: vice president, Mrs. Victor Koch; secretary, Mrs. Allen Mader; treasurer, Mrs. Earl Halstead; membership, Mrs. George Keenhold; telephone tree, Mrs. J. Charles Smith.

Numa Snyder and John Pyle, directors of the choruses and bands, announced important dates for the year: Christmas program, Dec. 20, 9:15 p.m.; Chorus Concert, March 30; Band Concert, May 4; Elementary concert, May 18.

In addition the Stroud Union Chorus has been invited to present the Christmas program at East Stroudsburg State College.

Music projects for the year include replacing uniforms, buying instruments and sponsoring a trip for the chorus and a treat for the band.

Questionnaires have been sent to parents asking how they would like to assist in raising the money. Parents who did not return the questionnaire at the supper are asked to turn them in.

Dates of Music Parents meetings include Nov. 26, Jan. 28, Feb. 25, a covered dish supper March 25; April 22, May 27.

Mrs. John Baylor headed the committee in charge of the supper which included Mrs. James Mageri, Mrs. Floyd Kellogg and Mrs. George Keenhold.

Home Economist Will Talk On Holiday Foods — The regular monthly meeting of St. Matthew's Altar and Rosary Society will be held on Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Mrs. John R. Hauser, chairman, announced the demonstration of "Holiday Party Foods" by Mrs. Betty Noack, Home Economist for the PP&L Co. In charge of hospitality will be Mrs. James T. Ogden and Mrs. Wilson S. MacIntire. Ways and means chairman are to be Mrs. Joseph Chobey and Mrs. Harold Goldy.

Mrs. Flory Host For ULCW Group — Fourteen members of the United Lutheran Church Women of Zion Union Church, Brodheadsville, met recently at the home of Mrs. Mary Flory.

Mrs. Donald Hunsicker presided, and devotions were led by Mrs. Flory.

The program topic "Our Ecumenical Responsibilities" was presented by Mrs. Nancy Fertig. After the missionary benediction, refreshments and a social hour were enjoyed.

See And Drive The New Tempest At George Wagner's Garage

CLEAN LINES of the Tempest, Pontiac's popular compact, make it a standout this year. Dealer George S. Wagner, of Mount Pocono points out that the big changes are in the styling. The Pontiac line is now on display at Wagner's Garage in Mount Pocono.

New Features Add To Driving Comfort

WHAT'S NEW with Tempest this year? Not enough to change the superb driving qualities of the car yet just enough to make it thoroughly desirable to the person interested in compacts.

Many of the original features, tried and proven, are retained with many refinements and improvements in engineering and design. Tempest for 1963 has been restyled for a more graceful profile. The front area is fitted with a clean cut grille with the real look of luxury.

Rear fender lines have been lengthened and squared off at the rear giving a generous amount of trunk space at the same time. While the famed four cylinder engine is much in demand the Tempest offers a rousing 260 H.P. V8 at optional cost.

The interiors are carried out in a "posh" luxury look that challenges even the most expensive cars. Generous use of vinyl at points of wear and areas that generally need constant care make it possible to keep the car looking new much longer. Rich fabrics are used in inset areas and matching carpeting round out the picture.

Fifteen inch tires are used so you get longer tire mileage and the Delcotron A. C. generator keeps your battery charged even when idling. Many other little "goodies" that are unseen but not unnoticed are self-adjusting brakes, a park position on this year automatic transmission, a smoother ride due to changes in the suspension.

The only way to discover all the nice things that have happened to Tempest for 1963 is to visit George S. Wagner Pontiac Garage in Mount Pocono.

Grade For Drainage

THE grading of the ground around a home is important in preventing dampness. The ground must slope downward from the house on all sides to drain water away from it, because if water is allowed to stand next to the house it will eventually find its way in.

Here's How

Homeowners' Questions

THE home can "cast a lovely light" if we do our best to brighten it and make it cozy during winter months. Some readers are doing just that as letters indicate.

Basements are being improved with color to erase dreariness, even if the room is visited only on wash day or to remove items from the freezer. One woman writes, "We have just put an additional washroom in our basement and I thought it would be quite clever to open the basement door in our kitchen and be pleasantly greeted by a mural. The stairway is located under the upstairs stairway. I would appreciate some advice on some type of mural to put there."

If the area to be brightened is easy to be reached it could be livened with a mural such as a basket of flowers, vegetables or fruit. There are many such motifs available in prepacked papers or vinyls. Many people cut out designs from wall papers and paste them to areas that are to be brightened, first painting the area in a color to harmonize with the adjoining room. Bright yellow, flamingo, orange or blue are all good backgrounds if other colors tie in.

"At what age should a child move out of a nursery-style bedroom decorating scheme? What are the requirements necessary to the room so that it can be used over a long period?"

A child is ready for a new look in his bedroom at about 7 years. He is beginning to read and write and could use a desk, comfortable chair and adequate light. There should be book shelves that can accommodate records and record player. A chest for toys should be selected so that it can be later service for storage. Some area should be designated for games, hobby collections and such. Children like closets with shelves where their clothes may be kept.

Hamill's Have Odor-Free Enamels

INTERIOR-exterior permanent White Finish Lily Whyte, odor-free white enamel finish by Felton-Sibley Company is being featured now at Hamill's Paint Center, 37 S. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg. This non-yellowing enamel retains its whiteness indefinitely and comes in either high gloss or eggshell "Satin Finish."

Lily Whyte flows freely, hides solidly and dries dust-free in three hours. It will withstand repeated washings.

Highly recommended for marine craft, resists salt and fresh water. Lead-free, non-toxic, germ-resistant features make it safe for use on nursery furniture and wood-work of any type.

within reach. A wardrobe should have a clothes rod that is low enough for a child to reach but adjustable for later years. A folding table, such as a bridge table, is almost indispensable to small fry, and will save rugs and bedspreads from paint splatters, etc.

"Why is it men do not appreciate the romance of a fireplace if there is any work involved," writes a woman who says, "we have lived in a pretty house five years but my husband never has let us burn wood in the fireplace as he says the white brick will get smoked up and look awful. Is there a way to remove scorch marks from the brick? My children and I have decided we must use it as it is ridiculous to have a conversation group of furniture build around it, and never have the pretty glow from the fire."

A fire built properly should not leave soot stain on the brick. After a period of use a little graying of the brick may result, but usually it can be removed with soap and water or a soap pad. But even if one had to paint a small area of white brick (and I'm assuming it is all on the outer side of the fireplace) it should be well worth the effort and small expense.

"My mother says we should not wash our wooden floors but our parquet floors are dirty and badly scratched. Waxing seems to imbed the dirt even more."

A well-known designer of small rugs, who displays them on just such a floor, advises us that he always washes his floors with a mild solution of soap and water, removing the solution with plain water and then drying the floor quickly. When thoroughly dry he re-waxes the floor. There are some new products that make claims for cleaning and waxing floors in one application and these might lend themselves to experimentation until you find one that suits your purpose.

TV Highlights

NBC WILL BRING together a distinguished spokesman for each of the two major political parties in a full-hour debate on the NBC-TV and NBC Radio Networks next Monday, Oct. 29 from 8:30 to 9:30. The speakers will be Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, speaking for the Democratic Party, and Senator Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, representing the Republican Party. They were chosen by John M. Bailey, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee and Representative William E. Miller of New York, Chairman of the Republican National Committee. The program is designed to place in sharp focus the national issues of the 1968 Congressional elections.

Henry Morgan, Hildegarde and Dr. Eric Riss are guests on "The Merv Griffin Show" from 2 to 2:55, Chs. 3 and 4 today.

On "The Lloyd Bridges Show" from 8 to 8:30, Chs. 2 and 10, Bridges (as Adam Shepherd) imagines himself in the role of an astronaut of the future. James Edwards, Paul Richards and Frank Aletter are also in the cast of "The Testing Ground."

On "Combat" from 7:30 to 8:30, Chs. 6 and 7, Lt. Hanley (Rick Jason) is injured and helpless in the presence of an unexpected bomb.

Tom Tully guest stars on "Empire" from 8:30 to 9:30, Chs. 3 and 4. A prosperous businessman uses his friendship with the Garrets to gain possession of their drought-ravaged holdings. Richard Egan stars as ranch manager Jim Redigo, Terry Moore, Anne Seymour and Ryan O'Neal are the Garrets. From 9:30 to 10, Carolyn Jones and Harry Guardino star on "The Dick Powell Show." A tuna fisherman learns that a beautiful young stowaway is wanted for murder.

Comedian George Gobel is Red Skelton's guest star and singing discovery Karen Morrow makes her television debut on "The Red Skelton Hour" from 8:30 to 9:30, Chs. 2 and 10. Gobel teams with Red (as Freddie the Freesholder) in a sketch about hospitals titled "One Good Intern Deserves Another." On "The Jack Benny Program" from 9:30 to 10, Lawrence Welk and his Orchestra make a rare television guest appearance.

"The Play of the Week" rerun on channel 5 from 9 to 11 is "Tiger At The Gates," Nina Foch, Leuen MacGrath and Martin Gabel star.

Garry Moore, Durward Kirby and Steve Lawrence, husbands all, offer some musical advice to bachelor Roy Castle, British entertainer, in the song, "Get Married," on "The Garry Moore Show" from 10 to 11, Chs. 2 and 10. Steve Lawrence will have two solos on tonight's show and Roy Castle will do a song and dance number.

Eddie Adams stars in a mood-variety special on Chs. 6 and 7 from 10:30 to 11. "Here's Eddie" will feature Duke Ellington and his orchestra, and Peter Falk.

Eddie Fisher, Red Buttons, Janet Leigh and Fran Jeffries are guests on "The Tonight Show Starring Johnny Carson," Chs. 3 and 4 from 11:15 to 1 a. m.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Tuesday, October 22, 1962
March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Do not anticipate difficulties, but be prepared to forestall them. Mars and Pluto combine to urge your finest efforts. Emphasize tolerance and congeniality.
April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Restrain and contain feelings and emotions in a future decision. Do not be reluctant to knuckle down to difficult tasks. Avoid excesses.
May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — Generally auspicious, but the day will run on its own steam. You will be the pilot, and probably the pivot for several associates or family members. Be alert to deceptive situations.
June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — While some changes are taking place, the overall atmosphere is under beneficent stars. Begin helpful discussions, and deal with trying matters that still need care. Advance steadily.
July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — A fine day, bringing one of your big opportunities to display your talents and give a long-needed assist to someone. Industry, executive work, especially favored.
August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — It may be tedious to attend to some matters, but the all in your roundly able, normally pleasant way and the day will bring unexpected prizes. Clear vision will pay.
September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — So many signs have good aspects now that it behaves — decisively. In the things you do best aim to succeed, and you can. (Scorpio) — What you do, you normally do well, leaving no loose ends or less attractive flares. Emphasize this trait today, but avoid strain, fatigue.
October 24 to November 23 (Sagittarius) — On certain days it seems almost impossible to get through designed chores; this may be one. In all events, be prudent, careful of your feelings.
November 24 to January 20 (Capricorn) — The better the deed, the better the day. Carry on with regular duties before attempting the new or extraordinary. Gains indicated in science, education.
January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — How you utilize your talents and possibilities is paramount now. Astute thought before taking action will win time, prevent errors. In handling tools, travel, spending, caution.
February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — A good day for a strong-minded you. Pick, choose with discretion, but in no doing, do NOT neglect little details.
YOU BURN TODAY: This is the Cuspical period of Libra-Scorpio, and you have the combined traits of both signs, with the more dominant characteristics of each outstanding, making you a powerful advocate of things well done. Be careful not to override others as you drive on toward success. Your very nature thrives under pressure and in a busy day and age, you are alive with enthusiasm, willingness, mental, physical strength. Control emotions, take setbacks in stride. Birthdate: Geo. Saintsbury, man of letters.

MERALGIA LOVES TO ADDRESS WOMEN'S CLUBS ON THE SUBJECT OF HOW TO RAISE CHILDREN....

BUT ASK POP, WHO HAD TO STAY HOME AND MIND 'EM SO THE OL' SPOUTER COULD DO HER ACT....

Cpl. Anton To Speak To Optimists

CPL. TOM Anton of the Pennsylvania State Police stationed at the barracks in Hazleton, will be the guest speaker at Wednesday's noon meeting of the Optimist Club at the Penn Stroud Hotel. His subject will be highway safety. Mr. Nal Rote, program chairman for the month will introduce the speaker.

In collaboration with the Ford Motor Co. and in conjunction with the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the local Optimist club decided to assist with the Second Annual "Punt, Pass and Kick" contest to be held on Saturday, Nov. 3.

Members of the club will recruit boys to take part in the competition as well as assist in the competition at the Gordon Giffels Field, Nov. 3.

The boys work committee, headed by Major H. G. Baker, made plans for Youth Appreciation Week, sponsored by Optimist International Nov. 12-18. The club will distribute posters throughout the community and feature youth at its regular weekly meeting scheduled for Nov. 13 at 6:15 p.m. rather than the usual noon hour.

The committee also discussed briefly the boys open oratorical contest. The committee will meet again to set definite plans for the local competition.

The possibility of having a high school student as "Optimist of the Month" was also discussed and will be presented at a regular club meeting. Club members have been reminded of the Testimonial dinner being given for Past Lt. Governor, Samuel Leto, by Zone Six at Bethlehem on Oct. 27.

The Trenton, Mich., firm said the new process is to go into operation late next year.

Eddie Adams stars in a mood-variety special on Chs. 6 and 7 from 10:30 to 11. "Here's Eddie" will feature Duke Ellington and his orchestra, and Peter Falk.

Kist Points Out Cavaliers Faults

EAST Stroudsburg High School football coach Jack Kist said last night of his team's performance against Wilson Boro Saturday: "We just played a miserable football game."

"There were two big faults with our team," he clarified. "We were missing blocking assignments and there was no aggressiveness... we were just waiting at the line of scrimmage instead of getting across it."

Noting that Wilson parlayed two Eastburg passes into eventual touchdowns, Kist added, "We are our own worst enemies — the offensive team is giving up more points than our defensive team between intercepted passes and fumbles."

Costly Fumble

One fumble was particularly costly to the Cavaliers Saturday. The Eastburgers had driven 60 yards from their own 30 to the Wilson 10 when Quarterback Jack Van Horn fumbled the ball and the Warriors of Wilson recovered.

That was the only sustained march of the game engineered by the Kist Kids all afternoon — and it was fairly evident to most observers that the fumble demoralized the entire team.

"We've lost our confidence," Kist added, but at the same time he quashed rumors that there is any dissension on the team.

Restore Confidence

But blocking and defensive aggressiveness in the line are going to be stressed in drills this week, the coach said. And, at the same time, he hopes some of the team's confidence will be restored during the week.

Kist also issued a stern warning to the varsity players in a session following the game.

"I told the boys they are not going to loaf and play football. We will play the younger boys on the

Aussies Are High In Tennis Ranks

NEW YORK (AP) — Australia has five players and the United States only one in the men's top ten of the unofficial world amateur tennis rankings, released Monday.

The list is compiled annually by Edward C. (Ned) Potter, chairman of the publications committee of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association and recognized historian of the game.

Rod Laver, the Australian who completed tennis' first grand slam (Australian, French, Wimbledon and U.S. titles) in 24 years, was named the world's No. 1 amateur, closely followed by his Davis Cup teammate, Roy Emerson.

Other Australians in the top ten are Neale Fraser, No. 4; Martin Mulligan, No. 7 and Fred Stolle, No. 10.

McKinley No. 5

The only U.S. player to rate a place in the top ten is Charles (Chuck) McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., ranked No. 5.

Margaret Smith of Australia, winner of all the major women's tournaments except Wimbledon, was chosen the No. 1 woman player, followed by Mario Bueno of Brazil.

Pen Argyl JV Team Held To 0-0 Tie

THE Pen Argyl JVs were held to a scoreless tie yesterday by Nazareth for the second consecutive game. Palmerton also battled the young Green Knights to scoreless deadlock in their previous game last week.

Pen Argyl's Terry Young intercepted a Nazareth pass in the third period and ran back 85 yards into pay dirt only to have the TD nullified by a clipping penalty. There were no other serious scoring threats by either team.

Pen Argyl is now 4-0-2 on the season. After having run up four straight victories they have been unable to score in the last two games, but the defense at the same time also has held the opposition scoreless.

PM 'Juniors' Score 32-6 Win

THE Pocono Mountain "Juniors" scored their second win in a row and third of the season Saturday with a 32-6 win over Notre Dame.

The losers averted a shutout by scoring a touchdown in the final minutes of the game.

Basketball, Hurdles Help Grid Pass-Catching Star

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A junior college transfer who plays basketball and runs hurdles to improve his football leads the country in pass catching.

He is John Simmons, a 6-foot, 3-inch 197-pounder who has accounted for more than half of the University of Tulsa's total yardage through the air in three victories and two losses.

Simmons snagged 11 passes Saturday and overtook Oregon State's Vernon Burke for the catching leadership. But he'll have a tough time retaining that lead this Saturday, when the Hurricane faces mighty Alabama at Tuscaloosa.

Not Stopped Easily Even the Crimson Tide, though, may not stop Simmons easily.

"There's no one man going to stop him," said Louisville coach Frank Camp after watching Simmons haul in three touchdowns passes against the Cardinals last Saturday. "He's the best end I've seen."

Several times Simmons has

Gregory's Game View: 'We Didn't Play Good'

"WE weren't playing good football... that's all there was to it," a somewhat dejected Coach Jack Gregory said last night, commenting on his Warriors' 12-6 win over Mansfield Saturday.

"They were a good team," Gregory said of Mansfield, "and they played like they were playing in the World Series before their Homecoming Day crowd."

Gregory also noted that his assistant coaches — Charley Reese, Gary Soderberg and Andy Meslosky — did a "fine job in getting their units ready for the game, but there was just a lack of execution on the part of the boys in getting the plays started."

Although Gregory would not say so in so many words, he indicated that it was pretty much a case of Mansfield being up and East Stroudsburg being down.

Stay In First At any rate, the Warriors kept their top position in the Pennsylvania State Athletic Colleges Conference by winning their fourth straight conference game and fifth straight overall. They also have won 17 of their last 19 games.

The Warriors in the Eastern division of the conference, and Slippery Rock in the Western division are the only unbeaten and untied teams in the loop.

If the script continues, as it has until now, it will be these two teams meeting for the Pennsylvania State Colleges Football title.

ESSC has 237 points while holding onto first place in the conference, which is 54 better than second-place West Chester's 183.

Slippery Rock, unbeaten in three Western section contests and six altogether, has 233 rating points to runner-up California's 183.

Although the Mounties of Mansfield were able to contain Toby Barkman quite well, it was the running of Fullback Jan Beliveau who not only scored the winning touchdown on a brilliant 18-yard run, but also averaged 5.6 yards per carry, gaining 135 yards in 23 carries.

Dom Villani was second highest for the team with a 4.5 average, although handing the ball only twice. Barkman, who carried for 41 yards in 11 carries, had a 3.7 average.

The return of Jim Wolfe into the lineup has bolstered Indiana's attack... he had been sidelined with back injury received in pre-season practice session...

Mike F. Flanagan, assistant football coach and head track coach at Bloomsburg, has been appointed chairman of the phys ed and athletic policy committee of the state ass'n. for health, phys ed and recreation... Mansfield returns to the track and field sport next spring with Melvin Dry as coach...

Coach Cites 'Bad Breaks'

HEAD Coach Jerry Stulgaitis expressed "a disappointed feeling" in his Mountaineer ball club after Saturday's performance against Whitehall, but at the same time made it very clear that he has not given up on his squad for the remainder of the season.

Stulgaitis further commented, "that a few bad breaks against our ball club made the difference in a ball game we should have won without any question."

Referring to the brilliant goal line stand on the part of Whitehall early in the fourth quarter, the head mentor commented, "We sent the best driving fullback in the league into the line four times, and if we didn't score then, that speaks very well of the Whitehall defense."

N. Y. Yacht Club Accepts Challenge

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yacht Club Monday accepted a British challenge to compete for the America's Cup in 1964. Commodore H. Irving Pratt of the New York Yacht Club sent a cable to the challenging Royal Thames Yacht Club notifying Earl Mountbatten, the commodore of the Royal Thames, of the acceptance for 1964.

In the same message Pratt formally advised the British commodore that the British challenge for 1963 could not be accepted. The Americans earlier had notified the British that they would not race in 1963 because of the time and expense involved in preparing and racing the expensive 12 meter yachts.

The United States' Weatherly defeated the challenging Australian Gretel four races to one in the cup competition off Newport, R.I. last month.

Expect Slugfest Tonight Between Fullmer-Tiger

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Champion Gene Fullmer, the awkward-appearing brawler from Utah, risks his World Boxing Association middleweight crown an eighth time Tuesday night facing Nigerian Dick Tiger, a sharper hitter with as much strength.

Neither 160-pounder has set any pattern of action for the 15-pound closed-circuit television battle at Candlestick Park with Fullmer's share of the word championship at stake.

"Whatever way he wants to fight me is the way I'll fight him," declares the 33-year-old Tiger whose given name Iketu was discarded long ago when he started boxing with the leaping style of a tiger.

Steady Improvement Since then, he's improved steadily, using a close-in style of attack with the left hook his best weapon and a straight right to the body almost as dangerous.

Despite reports the challenger was having trouble making the 160-pound limit, the odds in his favor have climbed the past few days from 7-5 to 8-5.

Even when the odds were 7-5, Fullmer expressed disdain with the declaration, "If I didn't think I could win, I wouldn't have offered to fight him."

Fullmer ended his workouts last Friday but Tiger boxed on Saturday and scheduled a workout Monday on the eve of the fight. His manager, Jersey Jones, indicated a problem with weight when he announced Monday's drill.

"We're not concerned about the weight, but Tiger is," said Jones.

Weight Problem

The 31-year-old champion with the flat fighter's nose won his title here in August, 1959, stopping Carmen Basilio in the 14th round of the National Boxing Association elimination bout. Since then the NEA has become the WBA.

While the WBA recognizes Fullmer, Paul Pender of Massachusetts is called champion in his home state and in New York and Europe.

Tiger holds the British Empire title but the British Boxing Board recognizes Pender as world champion.

Never Been Stopped The challenger never has been stopped en route to a 45-12-2 record and has won seven straight. He boasts 21 knockouts, including one over Florentino Fernandez in six rounds.

Fullmer's record is 55-4-2. He got a decision over Fernandez in a title fight 14 months ago. The champion has been stopped once — by Sugar Ray Robinson.

PML Bowls At Colonial Lanes

POCONO Major Bowling League will play four matches tonight at Colonial Lanes starting at 6:45 p. m.

Stroudsburg Furnace Co. vs. Fabel's Dairy on alleys 9 and 10; Beaver House vs. Fabel's Gulf on alleys 11 and 12; Happy Hour Tavern vs. Lawson's Automotive on alleys 13 and 14, and Star Furniture vs. Pocono Pump Co., on alleys 15 and 16.

The good pass receiver will run under control, saving about ten per cent of his speed to enable him to catch up to a pass that leads him too much.

Keeping the eyes on the ball is as vital to football pass receiving as it is in catching or striking any other type of ball. The forward pass should be watched right into the hands.

Field Hockey Team Loses

EAST Stroudsburg State College's field hockey team Saturday dropped their second game of the season to Temple by a 3-2 score in a game played on the winner's field.

Temple took a 3-1 halftime lead with Sue Tapper scoring two goals and Joanne Cauff adding the other.

ESSC's Sandy Heffentrager tallied the first goal in the first half, while Ardeth Hadley notched the only other goal for the losers in the second half of the contest.

ESSC is now 1-2-1 on the season.

Terry, Mahaffey Tops For Gophers

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph Terry of the New York Yankees and Art Mahaffey of the Philadelphia Phillies yielded the most home runs among major league pitchers in 1962, figures compiled by The Associated Press disclosed Monday.

Terry, the World Series hero, gave up 40 homers in the regular season to lead the American League. Mahaffey was the National League's gopher ball pace-setter with 36. Both are right-handers.

Short of Record

Terry's total was three short of the American League record set by Pedro Ramos with Washington in 1937. Ralph worked 299 innings while winning 23 games and losing 12. Terry permitted two homers, to Willie McCovey and Jose Pagan of the Giants, during the Series. He won two games in the post-season competition, including a 1-0 shutout in the seventh and deciding game.

In the regular campaign, the Detroit Tigers were Terry's chief tormentors. They walloped 9

E-burg JV's Hand Wilson 13-6 Defeat

EAST Stroudsburg's JVs yesterday handed Wilson Boro a 13-6 trimming on the Eastburg's field, scoring two touchdowns in the second half.

Down by a 6-0 count at halftime, the Eastburg JVs came alive in the second half when Bob LaBar took in a pass from Ray Gallagher for the first score of the game for the young Cavaliers. The play covered 45 yards. Jim Wilkins ran for the extra point to give Eastburg a 7-6 edge.

Later in the game, Monty Perfetti ran into pay dirt for the clinching tally.

The victory was East Stroudsburg's third against as many losses while Wilson suffered its second setback in four games.

Among the individuals, Rocky Colavito of the Tigers took a particular liking to the Yankee star's offerings. He tagged Terry for three homers.

The New York Mets and Milwaukee Braves found Mahaffey an easy home run mark. They each hit eight circuit blows off the Phillies' pitcher's serves. Frank Thomas of the Mets and Eddie Mathews of the Braves had three homers apiece off Mahaffey.

Waring's World Of Music 'Wonderful'

By DON ALLEN
Daily Record Reporter

FRED Waring's "Wonderful World of Music" is just that — wonderful.

Waring, a resident of Shawnee-on-Delaware, brought his Pennsylvania home Sunday night from their annual nationwide tour which started last week for a performance at East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School.

From the opening number, "So Beats My Heart For You," written by the late Tom Waring, the maestro's brother, to the finale, the majestic "Battle Hymn of the Republic," they were warmly and enthusiastically welcomed.

The show is essentially a musical tour of the world, with particular emphasis on the United States. It is a collection of the numbers which Waring, over his 45 years in show business, has found most often requested.

There is something for every musical taste — rock-and-roll, jazz, country music, classics. Even the "jazz," as Waring describes it in his introductory remarks, sounds better under his skilled direction.

All Stars

It is hard to pick individual stars in a Waring production because so much of the over-all effect depends upon a delicate blending of instrumental and vocal.

But these stick in the mind: Leonard Kravitz, who has lived in this area so long everyone forgets he's not a native, singing the deeply spiritual "I Believe" with the lilt, "The Happy Wanderer" as an encore.

Little Reynolds, whose harem-brained antics on stage do not conceal the fact that she is an extremely talented singer as well as a comedienne.

Betsy Ann McCall, with the widest and most infectious smile ever seen in these parts and whose flying fingers do marvelous things with an electronic accordion.

Bobby Day, banjo player, comic and sometime singer, whose rendition of "I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby" brought down the house, while probably causing the composer to turn over in his grave.

Poley McClinton, with the Waring's one of the co-founders of the Pennsylvaniaans, whose slapstick comedy contributes to the relaxed atmosphere the group projects during its performance.

Loretta Cornell, grand mother and waitress at Waring's Shawnee Inn and Country Club, making her first tour with the Pennsylvaniaans. She croons "Embraceable You" and belts "Birth of the Blues."

The program also included satires on barbershop quartet singing and on an operatic quartet which has just discovered the joys of singing with a microphone.

And there were Waring and Mc-

Clinton in a back-to-the-farm atmosphere with Waring calling a square dance while McClinton took a jug under his nose.

The whole program was of the type which Waring does so well. And, as a result, it was a memorable evening.

Charges Withdrawn

A CHARGE of drunken driving against Carl E. Storm, 58, of 70 Broad St., Stroudsburg, was withdrawn at a hearing last night before Forrest B. Sebring, Stroud Township justice of the peace.

Sebring said Storm agreed to pay damages caused to a parked motorcycle owned by Bernard J. Lawler, Bartonsville, which was struck about 6:50 p.m. Saturday in the parking lot of Koehler's Diner, W. Main St.

Storm was arrested by Police Chief H. W. Tebbes of Stroud Township on Lawler's complaint. He posted $500 bail for last night's hearing on Sunday after spending the night in Monroe County Jail.

Rep. Walter To Campaign In Monroe

U. S. REP. Francis E. Walter, Easton Democrat, will campaign for reelection in Monroe County Thursday, it was announced last night.

Walter will visit at East Stroudsburg State College, starting at 4 p. m. and will speak to a meeting of the Monroe County Young Democratic Club at 7:30 p. m.

The meeting will be held in the ballroom of the Penn-Stroud Hotel and will be open to the public. Walter is scheduled to leave here at 8 p. m.

Bowling Highlights

Colonial Poc. Mts. League

MONROE MUSIC blanked Bailey's Mobil 4 to 0. Al Schoch posted three big 200 games and a 650 total to lead his team to victory. Russ Bergman also hit a 229-604 for the Music team. This was both of these bowlers second consecutive 600 match in this league.

E. D. Huffman's shutout Brite Cleaners 4 to 0. Harold Storm with a 231-628 topped the scoring for Huffman's and Grant Barick's 223-603 was tops for the Cleaners.

Orchard Trailer Park

also blanked Marshall's Creek Kennels 4 to 0. Charles Wright with a 215-542 took scoring honors. Gray Chevrolet swamped Colonial Lanes by over 500 pins as they won 4 to 0. There was not a 500 match on either team, but Jake Nittel rolled a 235-635 and John Genser a 224-623 to lead the scoring.

Franks Barber Shop

picked up a 3 to 1 victory over Sinclair Oil. Substitute Dick Griener posted a 232-586 to lead the Barbers. Dick Fabell's 539 trio was high for Sinclair.

Know Your Candidates:

Governor

REPUBLICAN
William W. Scranston
 ADDRESS: Dalton, Pa. Age: 39. A. B. major in history, Yale Law School, 1946, LL. B. Occupation: U. S. Congressman. Training and Experience: Elected to 87th Congress in November, 1960. Served as special assistant to the director of several business and industrial firms (resigned all such positions on election to Congress to avoid conflict of interest). A leader in the world-famous effort of Scranton City and Lackawanna County in field of industrial development and fighting unemployment.

RICHARDSON DILWORTH
 ADDRESS: 225 East Washington Square, Philadelphia, Pa. Age: 63. Education: St. Marks School, Southborough, Mass. Yale University, Yale Law School. Occupation: Lawyer. Training and Experience: President of Yale Forum, 1921, which was the Yale University Political Club Co-Chairman of the Yale Student's Committee for the League of Nations, 1936-37. Deputy Mayor of Philadelphia, 1935-36. Treasurer, City of Philadelphia, 1936-37. District Attorney, City of Philadelphia, 1937-38. Mayor of American Municipal Association, 1961. Lectured at Yale University under sponsorship of Yale Law School, on Political Science, 1939.

Answer: The most pressing need is the problem of transition from a State relying for its prosperity almost entirely on steel, mining, and railroads; to a State which can and will meet the challenge of the modern, electronic, nuclear age. This problem includes meeting the many needs of the second half of the 20th Century such as education, and particularly higher education; mental health, open space and recreation; transportation in every form; urban renewal; and civil rights.

SOCIALIST LABOR
George S. Taylor
 ADDRESS: 7467 Rhodes St., Philadelphia 51, Pa. Age: 47. Education: High School education plus 12 years of evening courses in Scientific subjects. Occupation: Electronics Technician in Industry. Training and Experience: Teaches evening School in Scientific Socialism, encompassing: History, Economics, Political Science, Anthropology, Elected Organizer of Philadelphia Section of the Socialist Labor Party for past 25 years.

Answer: Social ownership of the industries and services by the useful workers themselves. Production for use and the welfare of all. A democratic Industrial Government of elected representatives from industry and the services. Collective ownership and control of automation, and its widespread application to reduce hours of work with increased benefits for all. To replace competition under Capitalism with cooperation under Socialism, with end to class divisions in society and the resulting strife, inequality and the absence of the brotherhood of all men. An end to State control and bureaucratic despotism, and curtailment of the Bill of Rights. Free speech and press guaranteed to all, and at all times. To think as one chooses.

The exercises, involving nearly 15,000 men and 25 ships, centered around the coast of Macedonia, Greece.

All United States units involved were part of the Sixth Fleet. They included an aircraft carrier, a cruiser, two guided missile frigates, six destroyers, seven amphibious ships and four mine-sweepers.

Commanding the NATO forces was Vice Admiral David L. McDonald, Commander, Naval Striking and Support Forces, Southern Europe. He also is Commander, Sixth Fleet.

Horn Hits Democrats' Promises

"PROMISES not payrolls has been the theme of the Democrat office holders for too many years and it's time for a change," said Woodrow "Woody" Horn, Republican Candidate for Congress from the 15th District, at a Pike County Republican Rally recently at the Lackawanna House in Lackawanna.

"My opponent," Horn continued, "promises more and more on his every two year orbit of the District. But after you buy his words and send him back to Washington there is a complete silence for two long years."

"He's back again. This time don't listen to the promises. Ask him the questions that are on the minds of all of us. Ask him why he supports foreign aid to nations that build their steel plants with our tax dollars and then receive U. S. contracts for steel when we are unemployed."

Let him explain why the import quotas were lifted on cheap bunker fuel oil from South America, which takes business from the coal fields of Pennsylvania.

"Make him give his excuses for the encroachment of Communism in the Western Hemisphere. Let him tell you about the Cuban missiles with a range of 1400 miles that the Democrats call 'defensive weapons.'"

"Inquire as to why your tax dollars were used to pay the U. N. bills owed by Cuba, Yugoslavia, Poland and other Communist nations."

"This year ask the questions and if you continue to get the same old run around and the same old promises show him at the polls on election day that you haven't been taken in."

Kiwanians Set For UN Day

AS PROGRAM chairman for the Stroudsburg Kiwanis United Nations Day, Dr. Kurt Wimer, professor of Social Studies at East Stroudsburg State College, has announced plans to have as his guest, Dr. M. Gerhard Mally, a member of the Foreign Policy Research Institute of the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Mally is a graduate of the University of Vienna and came to the United States on a graduate scholarship. Attending the Kiwanis program with Dr. Mally will be foreign graduate students who are working on advanced degrees at the University of Pennsylvania.

Wouter Verschuor of the Netherlands and Henry Kwekwe of Liberia, exchange students enrolled at East Stroudsburg State College will also speak about what the United Nations means to their respective countries.

Dr. Wimer, in addition to being the United Nations Day program chairman for the Kiwanis, has also been appointed by Mayor Thomas Kistler of East Stroudsburg as United Nations Day Director.

Also on the campus of East Stroudsburg State College Dr. Wimer has planned a varied colorful program that calls for foreign menu in the Dining Hall and active participation by some of the students.

The major portion of the Lloyd films have never been seen via any commercial medium as Lloyd retained the rights to most of his motion pictures.

Smallpox Fatal
 JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Seven persons have died of smallpox in east Java's capital of Surabaya since mid-September, Antara news agency reported Sunday.

The agency quoted local authorities as saying a mass inoculation campaign is under way and the epidemic there is under control.

Earlier reports said seven persons had died of smallpox in the west Java city of Bandung.

Kresgeville

Mrs. W. E. Andrews

MR. AND Mrs. Edwin J. Berlin, Fairmont, West Virginia, stopped off at the place of his birth and called on former boyhood friends while enroute to his niece's home at New Foundland, Mrs. Charles Ehrhart. Ed left this community in 1907 but still takes every opportunity to visit the scenes of his childhood when he gets back to Pennsylvania. He was a former teacher before leaving for West Virginia. The latch string is always out for Ed when he gets back to Kresgeville.

SP4 Theodore W. Hittner who is stationed in Warrensville Station, Cleveland, Ohio, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hittner.

Dr. Hagen Staag, the supply pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Albrightsville, will present an illustrated lecture on his summer trip to the Holy Lands in the Church auditorium on Sunday evening, Nov. 4 at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Staag is also head of the Dept. of Philosophy at Muhlenberg College, Allentown.

The Polk Twp. P.T.A. is sponsoring a Halloween Party for the school children in the school on Wednesday evening, Oct. 31 at 7 p.m.

Miss Mildred Kibler, Weissport, called on her ailing grandfather William Eckley.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cain, Seaside Heights, N. J. spent the weekend at their home here, the former George Hawk property.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kreimoyer called on former residents of this place, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hawk, Big Creek.

Watch these columns for a Basketball game and dance sponsored by the Polk Twp. Alumni Association in the Pleasant Valley High School Gymnasium to be held sometime the fore part of December.

LAST WEEKEND was a big day in the home of the Nevins Reims. At 5:30 their son, S. P. 4 William Reimel, who has been abroad in service for 31 months, arrived home having been honorably discharged from military service. He had had his time extended three times since he left the U. S. A. He thoroughly enjoyed his work with the medical corps and his trip home on the U. S. N. boat "General Maurice Rose."

He is trying now to get accustomed to the pace of life here in the home country. Mrs. Helen Randt, R. N. of Philadelphia, spent the holiday weekend with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carlton and her niece, Cynthia Carlton. Friends were glad that Mrs. Randt had brought pictures taken at the wedding of her daughter, Judy Randt and Thos. Angell, so that those unable to attend could enjoy the event.

The borough streets have practically had a face-lifting with the fine work the State Highway workers did in blacktopping Broad Street, Cherry Valley Street and Glenwood Avenue. With traffic bumper to bumper during Columbus Day travel, good roads helped greatly.

Ernest Birsner is home from the hospital and shows much improvement though still very weak.

Sentenced As Arson Accessory

BUTLER, Pa. (AP) Morris

Steinhiser, 19, of Cabot, accused of furnishing a rifle for a robbery that led to an arson slaying, was sentenced Monday to a maximum term of 12 years in a reformatory.

Judge Clyde S. Shumaker of Butler County Court also fined Steinhiser $400. The Judge ordered him committed to Camp Hill Industrial School for Boys.

Steinhiser was convicted Oct. 1 of being an accessory before and after the fact of armed robbery and burglary.

He was acquitted on charges of being an accessory before and after the fact of murder in the arson death of Mrs. Pauline Ritter, 67, of Cabot.

Charles Ganss Jr., 17, of Cabot faces death in the electric chair for the slaying but hasn't been sentenced formally pending outcome of his appeal for a new trial.

Donald Montgomery, 19, of Brackenridge has been sentenced to life imprisonment. Both were convicted of first degree murder.

Attacks Fatal To Spectators

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Heart attacks Saturday resulted in the deaths of two persons, part of the record crowd which attended the Syracuse-Penn State football game at Beaver stadium.

Fourteen other persons were treated at the campus dispensary for minor fainting spells.

Penn State won the game from Syracuse, 20-19, before a crowd of 46,920.

The dead persons were identified as Robert B. Bird, 56, circulation manager of the Shamokin News-Dispatch, and Gerald V. George, 46, of Erie, field engineer for the Greenleaf Corp. of Pittsburgh.
